Question Difficulty: Mastery

A loan is being repaid with 2 payments: A first payment of $1,500 at the end 2 years and a second payment of $1,600 at the end of 7 years.

Determine the loan amount given an annual effective rate of discount of 2%.

A 2,834.65

B You used the formula: $1,500(0.98)^{-2} + 1,600(0.98)^{-7}$ that gives AV's instead of PV's using a 2% discount rate.

C 2,829.60

D 2,759.65

Help Me Start

Sketch a time diagram showing the two payments.

Solution

The loan is the PV of the two payments using the annual effective discount rate of 2%:

$$L = 1,500(1 - .02)^2 + 1,600(1 - .02)^7 = 1,500(0.98)^2 + 1,600(0.98)^7 = 2,829.60.$$

Common Questions & Errors

Common Error 1: Finding the amount $2000v^{15-4+1}$ which is the principal repaid in the 4th payment. Subtract the answer from the annual payment amount to get the interest paid.
